1

1. Student achievement in core academics, especially reading and math, should be the board's first priority when setting district goals and budgets.

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

The purpose of a school is to establish a strong foundational knowledge of reading, mathematics, writing, and civics, so yes student achievement and outcomes in the base subjects has to be the priority of the board.

2

2. Districts should use reading curricula built on systematic evidence based literacy instruction and not on three-cueing systems. (SF 59-2026)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

Districts absolutely should, for the English language phonics has taught more people far better than guessing, personally I was taught with Hooked on Phonics and was reading grades ahead of where I should have been.

3

3. Parents, not the school, are the primary decision makers in their children's education, health, and upbringing. (SF 9-2024)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

It is the duty of the school to educate the children of their community not to raise them. When I was going through the system there were nurses that tried getting my parents to put me on SSRI's to calm the "ADD", which was wholly unacceptable behavior. The parents have the ultimate say in their child's lives.

4

4. District staff should promptly inform parents of any significant change in their child's well-being at school, including a request to be treated as the opposite sex. (SF 9-2024)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

With parents being unable to observe their children 24/7 it is a function of the schools to observe children and report back to the parents changes and developments in their lives either good or bad, and have the urgency fall in line with the severity of the situation.

5

5. Parents and community members should be able to easily review all curriculum, instructional materials, and supplemental materials used in district classrooms. (SF 62-2022)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

I believe that all curriculum should have their own link on the front landing page of the district or school website so its the first thing seen, with easy menus to sort by grade and subject. Nothing should be kept from anyone for any reason when it comes to what is being taught.

6

6. Students should receive sex education only with a parent's written permission in advance. (SF 9-2024)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

This should be fairly simple, the district shouldn't teach students explicit material without written consent, back to parents having ultimate say.

7

7. School libraries and classrooms should not offer sexually explicit material, while keeping age-appropriate, factual materials on human biology and health. (HB 10 Engrossed-2026)

Required: Please explain where you would draw that line and what review process you would support for parents who raise concerns.

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

Anatomy and physiology with "explicit" diagrams of structures and functions, scientific diagrams, should be reserved for the latter half of high school if its necessary at all. Personally I had the puberty slideshow in 5th grade and it was cardstock cartoons where it was representative but not explicit, the presentation was just factual and didn't go into feelings or sexualities just a, "Hey this is gonna happen". I found it at the time just bland, like no duh because my parents and siblings had already run me through it, but it was proper and objective not subjective. Sex ed was taught to me in 7th grade and was the celibacy is the only true 100% effective birth control, but if ya have to use protection and if you don't here's what's going to happen, nothing about how to or where to or what it means, just a warning. 7th grade now seems like it was a bit early in hind sight, I feel that 8th or 9th would likely be better for that one. Then at the end of the day my parents had to sign permission slips for all of it, but books and materials like the Kamasutra don't belong anywhere near a school.

8

8. The district should fully uphold Wyoming law that keeps girls' sports, restrooms, locker rooms, and overnight accommodations separated by biological sex. (SF 62-2025; SF 133-2023; HB 32-2025)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

Biological males should never be in women's sports, competitions, events, locker rooms, restrooms or anywhere a lady may be in a compromising state. Not to say that you cant have co-ed basketball but public institutions must obey the law of the state that funds them.

9

9. District curriculum, programs, and staff training should not divide people into classes of "oppressed" and "oppressor" based on race, sex, or other group identity. (HB 147-2025)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

Subjective thoughts and reasonings should never be allowed to be taught as objective fact, and even less so when its filtered through racism. Those trainings and curriculums teach people to judge others based on the color of their skin or other things that they can't control which is the definition of racism, why would that ever be okay to teach to anyone.

10

10. Students should be free to express their sincerely held religious beliefs at school without fear of penalty or retaliation.

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

The first amendment is the first one because it is the bedrock that keeps this country together, without it we are nothing, and yes it even applies to toddlers. No child should ever be bullied or fear retaliation for their beliefs at school or anywhere.

11

11. The board should respect parents' freedom to choose public, charter, private, or home education, and should welcome homeschool and private school students in district activities as state law now requires. (HB 199-2025; HB 46-2025; HB 23-2026)

RESPONSE Strongly Agree

Homeschool parents and charter parents still pay the property taxes that the public parents pay so absolutely they should be able to participate, they are all still part of the same community and would be better for it having a broader range of people and experiences that they are exposed to.
